

Richmond Dispatch

THURSDAY, APRIL 1, 1880.

MANCHESTER AND VICINITY.

An Accident at a Funeral.—The funeral of Mr. Ignatius A. Jones, who was a well-known citizen of the Richmond and Danville railroad, took place yesterday morning from the Methodist church, soon after the procession left the church a little son of the deceased—left from the carriage in which his parents were sitting, and the right hind wheel passed entirely over the little boy's body. Dr. Matthews, who was in attendance at the funeral, rendered immediate attention, and the child's injuries were not deemed serious. The accident occurred at the residence of the deceased, and the child was taken to the hospital.

Statistics for March.—During the month of March the clerk of the Richmond and Danville railroad reported 13,000 passengers, 1,000 freight cars, and 1,000 tons of freight. The total revenue for the month was $100,000.

Chief of Police Lipscomb makes the following report, showing the work done in the Mayor's Court during the past month. Number of arrests made for various offenses, 20, of which 15 were committed by colored persons, 5 out of which number only one was convicted.

There were two colored men adjudged lunatics. One is now confined in the City Asylum, and the other in the Central Lunatic Asylum.

Coroner Ingram was not called upon during the month to serve in his official capacity.

The surgeon to the city jail reports one death during March.

There was no alarm of fire sounded last month.

Question of Jurisdiction.—At the Mayor's Court yesterday several parties from Lower Downy were up on charges of disturbing the peace. The question was to the jurisdiction of the Mayor's Court, and the case was adjourned.

Some days ago the President of the City Council was called upon to try several persons for violating the city ordinance. It had then previously been decided that he, according to the charter of Manchester, was the only officer who had the right to try such cases.

Up for Fast Driving.—George Hunter (acting-Mayor) Perdue yesterday was charged with fast driving over the Free bridge. The prisoner, after proving satisfactorily to the Court that he was a native-born citizen, his part to view of the case was discharged. George was driving a mule at the time, and the animal became so stubborn it required the combined efforts of the bridge-watchman and the driver to bring the mule to a halt.

Chesterfield News.—The clerk of the Chesterfield County Court issued 14 marriage licenses during the month of March—7 whites and 7 colored; and recorded 41 deaths.

The jailer of Chesterfield county conveyed Walter Woodridge, a colored lunatic, to the Central Asylum yesterday.

The fence-jumper charged with robbing Hill and male districts will be discussed at the next meeting of the Board of Supervisors.

A Bold Thief.—Some thief invaded the premises of the mother of the State reporter Tuesday night, and stole a watch, a ring, and a pair of gloves. This was held, the thief having neither the fear of a councilman, reporter, or a J. P. before him.

Brief Items.—The infant child of a colored woman who lives near the Manchester tannery fell into the water yesterday, and the child died Tuesday from the effects of the burn.

No Quarter for Theatrical Pirates. LETTER FROM GILBERT AND SULLIVAN—HOW THEY MEAN TO PROTECT THEIR RIGHTS.

The following letter is published in the New York Tribune:

Sir,—We have received information that several unscrupulous managers are preparing to invade our rights, and to make a play of our works, and that more than one company is already engaged in privately rehearsing it. As a matter of course, we have instructed our legal advisers to take whatever steps may be necessary to restrain these contemplated performances, and in the mean time, as considerable numbers of persons appear to exist as to the exact nature of an alien author's right in his manuscript play, it may be interesting to managers, authors, and play-goers to know the state of the law on the subject as set forth in "Drone on Copyright," the leading recent treatise on all matters relating to the law of property in intellectual productions. (The law is quoted.)
